Upon arrival, the guest(s) ID will be checked against the guest list and given entry upon verification. If a guest arrives unescorted and has no prior notification of their arrival, the gate will make an attempt to contact the resident or base employee to validate "guestship." If unable to validate "guestship," the individual(s) will be turned away.

FISC Norfolk Reserves participate in Patriot Partner 2001

FISC Norfolk Public Affairs – The largest mobilization exercise involving Naval Supply Systems Command Reservists in the eastern United States was held in Norfolk, Va., in July.

Patriot Partner 2001 is a biannual exercise where Reserve units operate active duty air and ocean terminals to exercise their war-time missions of moving passengers and cargo. Patriot Partner exercises provide hands-on experience by working missions in support of active forces.

Participating in this year's Patriot Partner were 274 Reserves representing the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Forty-five Reservists from Naval Reserve Naval Air Terminal (NAVAIRTERM) Detachment 107 (Charlotte, N.C.); Detachment 207 (Raleigh, N.C.); Detachment 307 (Greensboro, N.C.); and Detachment 609 (Louisville, Ky.) supported the Norfolk Air Terminal. Fifty-five members from two Naval Reserve Fleet and Industrial Supply Center (FISC) units, Detachment 106 (Baltimore, Md.) and Detachment 107 (Norfolk, Va.), supported the FISC Norfolk Ocean Terminal.

CAPT Ray English, commanding officer of the Norfolk-based FISC Norfolk Reserve unit, said, "The exercise assesses the mobilization readiness of Reserve forces to assume responsibility for and operate both the Air and Ocean terminals, as they would in the event of mobilization to support surge and contingency operations."

"The most significant part of this exercise was that 274 participants worked together as a team, irrespective of their service, status, or military involvement," said CDR Tom Dalpini, officer-in-charge of the Ocean Terminal, during the exercise.

Because this was the first time the Ocean Terminal participated in a Patriot Partner exercise, the Ocean Terminal senior enlisted and officer Reservists worked alongside their civil service counterparts, training for their mobilization mission to run a second shift at the terminal.

In addition to Navy Reserve units, Air Force Reserves from the 69th Aerial Port Squadron and an active duty Army unit, the 119th Transportation Group, participated.

FISC Norfolk Public Affairs - LTJG Jonathan Sym, SC, USNR, became the first U.S. naval officer to attend training at Fleet and Industrial Supply Center Norfolk Detachment Washington, D.C. Postal Operations Division. The training qualifies Sym to be a Navy Reserve postal officer.

Sym is the assistant supply officer and HQ Company commander for Naval Mobil Construction Battalion 27 stationed at Naval Air Station Brunswick, Maine. NMCB 27 is a Reserve Seabee battalion attached to the Second Naval Construction Brigade in Little Creek, Va. Navy seeking eBusiness pilot project ideas

Thirty to 40 eBusiness pilot projects proposed by Navy and Marine Corps commands and activities will be funded by the Department of the Navy (DON) eBusiness Operations Office during fiscal year 2002.

In fiscal year 2001, the DON eBusiness Operations Office selected and funded eight such pilot projects from more than 360 submissions.

Karen L. Gadbois, Director of the eBusiness Operations Office's Pilot Funding and Project Management Group, said, "This is a tremendous opportunity for the Department of the Navy to develop business solutions through the use of technology, and we strongly encourage Navy and Marine Corps activities to continue submitting proposals."

Pilot project proposals should be designed to develop and implement innovative eBusiness solutions to improve readiness, business processes, and quality of work or life. The goal for pilot initiatives is to quickly demonstrate a proof of concept, generally within 90 to 120 days, at a cost of $1 million or less.

Pilot nominations may be submitted to the DON eBusiness Operations Office Web site, www.don-ebusiness.navy.mil. Navy and Marine Corps commands and activities are encouraged to continue to submit their pilot ideas at anytime for future funding consideration.

Each pilot project submission is evaluated against a common set of rigorous evaluation criteria. The projects that successfully pass the initial screening are analyzed for breadth of impact, prototyping cost, time to complete the pilot, and the impact to DON and eBusiness strategies. A commercial-off-the-shelf decision support software tool is used to conduct an analytical evaluation of each project submission, arriving at a final overall grade.

The DON eBusiness Operations Office provides the funding to conduct pilot projects and consulting services to clients to fully develop concepts into workable, demonstrable pilot projects.

The office will also serve as a knowledge warehouse, tracking all of the pilot project successes and failures to provide Web-based access for lessons learned throughout the department.

Gadbois said she plans to announce the first batch of pilot projects selected in early October.

The eight pilots funded in fiscal year 2001 included Pay and Personnel Ashore; RF Storeroom; Maps and Charts Tracking System; Deployment Logistics Program; SMART-Web Move; Web-Based Automated Confidential Financial Disclosure Process; Global Amphibious Total On-line Resource Link; and Medical Appointments on the Web.

The underlying technology concepts to be proven and/or demonstrated include transactions processing between afloat and ashore, radio frequency technology, electronic signatures and associated security, providing medical appointment access via the Internet.

The DON e-Business Operations Office, located at the Naval Supply Systems Command Headquarters in Mechanicsburg, is a catalyst and enabler for implementing e-Business solutions.

Navy expands SMARTWebMove to offer more services to Sailors

FISC San Diego Public Affairs - SMARTWebMove, a 'One-Touch' service provided by the Fleet and Industrial Supply Center, San Diego, and sponsored by the Naval Supply Systems Command, now offers active-duty Navy service members and their families additional Permanent Change of Station (PCS) options for Continental United States (CONUS) moves based on orders from nonarduous sea duty to shore, nonarduous to arduous sea duty, and shore duty to arduous sea duty.

Since early June, SMARTWebMove, an Internet-based move application and entitlement counseling program, has been available to San Diego-based Sailors and their families to arrange their household goods (HHG) moves online at their convenience and without having to visit the Personal Property Shipping Office (PPSO). The program, designed to process up to 80 percent of routine HHG moves when the program is at full capacity, initially serviced PCS shore-to-shore and arduous sea duty-to-shore moves from San Diego to destinations within the CONUS.

Nine other options will be phased in over the coming months. CAPT William Barnes, FISC San Diego commanding officer, says these enhancements will make arranging a move even easier. "These added options will significantly expand on the customer convenience and quality of life benefits that SMART WebMove provides to our Sailors and their families."

"There is no similar system in either the public or private sector that offers the level of customer service and efficiency for scheduling HHG moves that SMARTWebMove does," said Barnes. "The program provides service members with customized entitlement counseling based on individual orders and government regulations, preparation of move arrangements for up to three shipments with a single application, and direct delivery of the move application to the PPSO with no travel or office visit required."

As the program expands, Barnes says other origins and destinations will be added. "Resources permitting, shipments originating at other FISC PPSOs within CONUS will come online in fiscal year 2002. The program will also be implemented at select FISCs outside CONUS in 2003 and Navywide by 2004."

SMARTWebMove provides Sailors and their families with a quality moving service that is available 24-hours a day, seven days a week from home, work, on board ship, or anywhere they have Internet access. In addition to convenience, customers have reported that it is easy, fast and fun to use SMARTWebMove. On average it takes 40-60 minutes to schedule a move online. SMARTWebMove eligibility is based on the member's orders to allow online move counseling customized to the member.

To see if you are eligible to use the program, check www.smartwebmove.navsup.navy.mil.

By Gerry J. Gilmore, American Forces Press Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — The FBI assumed crime-scene jurisdiction at the Pentagon terrorist attack site Sept. 21 from the Arlington County (Va.) Fire Department, officials said.

FBI officials estimate the crime scene investigation would last about a month, Arlington Fire Chief Edward P. Plaugher said. He said he expects "additional remains will be discovered during the course of the FBI investigation" and mortuary specialists will remain on site to process them.

As a result of the attack, 125 people in the Pentagon died or remain unaccounted for, according to a DoD casualty update. Another 64 people were aboard the hijacked plane that smashed into the building. To date, 118 remains have been recovered and transported to Dover Air Force Base, Del., for identification.

Plaugher said Arlington firefighters will continue providing emergency protection for FBI investigators combing the crash site, including fire watch and structural safety monitoring. He said his department would also assist in processing evidence.

At a ceremony earlier in the day Army Maj. Gen. James T. Jackson, Military District of Washington commanding general, thanked county firefighters, Army engineers from Fort Belvoir, Va., and other organizations that pitched in during the emergency.

"You are truly the foundation upon which our country will continue to stand," Jackson said, presenting the firefighters and engineers with MDW commander's coins.

A terrorist-hijacked airliner crashed into the Pentagon's west wall Sept. 11 just minutes after two other hijacked airliners crashed into the New York World Trade Center's twin towers in New York. More than 6,400 people are now feared dead there.

Around the same time, a fourth hijacked plane crashed into a Pennsylvania field, killing 44. The plane's crew and passengers are credited with thwarting the terrorists' plans.

Use of cameras at NSA requires permission

During the recent increased security inspections of vehicles entering the base, Security personnel have observed a significant number of cameras being brought onto the base.

Just a reminder, photography by employees and visitors at the Naval Support Activity (NSA) Mechanicsburg is prohibited without the express permission of the Public Affairs Office and the Security Department. To obtain permission to bring a camera and/or shoot video or still photography on the base, contact the NAVSUP Public Affairs Office, Ext. 3338.

To avoid having their camera equipment or film confiscated, employees should be sure to obtain permission prior to bringing cameras on to the base.

Military personnel and their family members who reside on the base are permitted to possess cameras and take photographs in the quarters and recreation areas only.

Back by popular demand: Casey Sheehe to speak at Quality Month event

Mark Thursday, Oct. 25, on your calendars as a Must Do Day - Casey Sheehe, motivational speaker, will be the guest speaker for the Mechanicsburg Defense Activities, Naval Support Activity Mechanicsburg, Quality Committee's Quality Month Event.

That's the call from planners of this annual program.

Sheehe was a big hit at the spring breakfast, a spokesman reports. She will speak on "Keeping Good Thoughts in Tough Times" at the building 14 Special Events Forum.

This promises to be a "hot ticket" event and attendance will be by ticket only. Breakfast and a break snack will be provided, planners note.

Tickets can be acquired by contacting your command Quality Committee representative, noted at the end of this article. Tickets are limited and will be distributed on a "first come, first served" basis.

In the event that this is a "sell out," the committee will maintain a waiting list and cancellations will be distributed on a "first come, first served" basis.

There is no cost for this event but you must have your supervisor's permission to attend. Four hours of credit will be provided to assist you in meeting your continuing training requirements. In addition, there will be a drawing at the end of the program.

Due to the reconfiguration of traffic and parking patterns following events of Sept. 11, transportation to and from the event will be handled solely by base taxi. Attendees will be provided with pickup times and locations for their command the week prior to the event.

"We respectfully request that attendees do NOT attempt to drive to the event and walking to the event may be complicated because of traffic," committee representatives state.

This promises to be a very uplifting event that will leave you smiling. Call and reserve your ticket today!

Campaign for charitable agencies underway

The Combined Federal Campaign is in full swing and will run through Oct. 23.

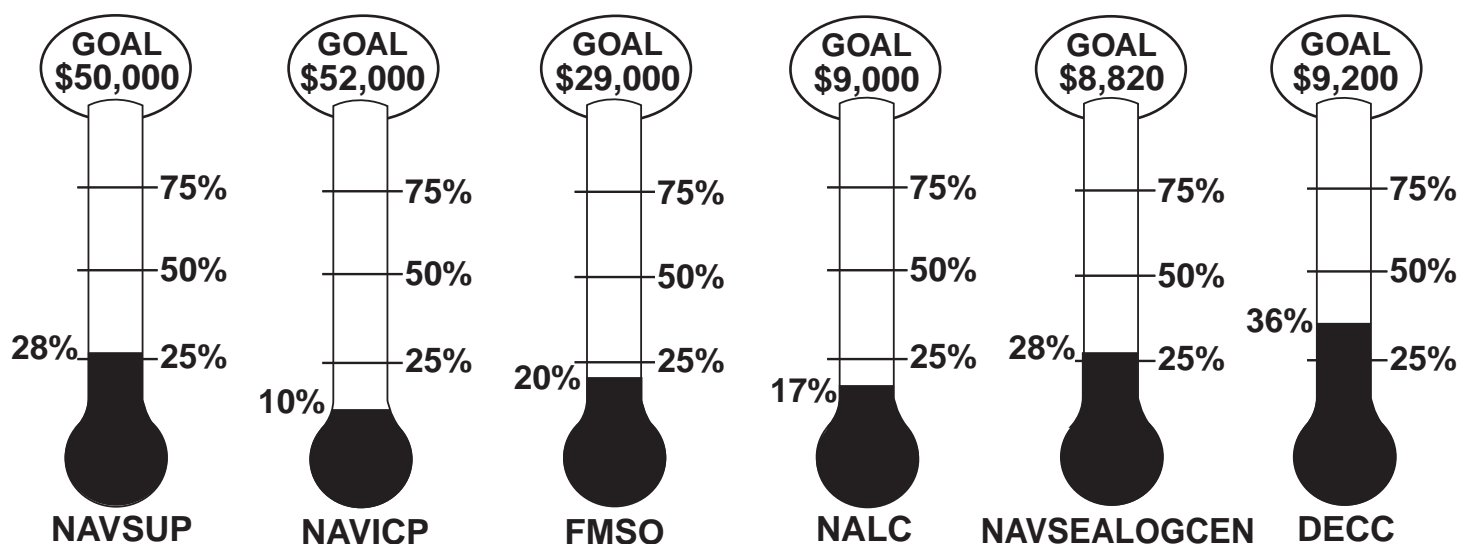

During this six-week campaign, base employees can expect to be approached by a CFC key worker and provided a CFC Agency Booklet and pledge card.

In addition to the agencies in the CFC booklet, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has released a list of agencies involved in the disaster relief efforts as a result of attacks on Sept. 11. The list of agencies and their CFC codes can be found at <http://www.opm.gov/cfc/opmmemos/2001/911-Disaster.htm>.

"For almost 40 years now, the Combined Federal Campaign has provided federal employees (both military and civilian) an efficient and effective method to contribute to thousands of local, national, and international organizations," RADM Justin D. McCarthy, the Commander of the Naval Supply Systems Command, said recently in conjunction with the start of the effort on base.

Reaching its half-way point Oct. 9, the campaign will hold a rally featuring information about some local agencies that need help. The rally will be held outside building 311 and 407 cafeterias from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Those stopping by the rally will get a special treat.

Early returns from the campaign are recorded on the thermometers below.

Strike out fire

The theme "Cover the Bases & Strike Out Fire" is being spotlighted during this year's observance of Fire Prevention Week 2001. With the baseball theme in mind, we are reminded during Fire Prevention Week to "cover all the bases" with respect to three main causes of fires in the home—cooking, heating, and electrical.

First base:

Cooking Safety

- *Keep potholders, paper towels, and anything that can burn away from the stove.

- *Keep children and pets away from the stove when someone's cooking.

- *A grown-up should stay in the kitchen when someone is cooking.

Second base:

Heating Safety

- *Keep space heaters at least three feet away from walls, furniture, or anything that can burn.

- *If you have a fireplace, have a screen to catch sparks.

- *Have chimneys cleaned periodically.

Third base:

Electrical Safety

- *Replace damaged electrical cords.

- *Don't run extension cords across doorways or under rugs.

- *Don't plug more than one appliance into an electrical outlet.

Safe at home:

The Great Escape

- *Get together with your family and make a plan for fire safety.

- *Draw a floor plan of your home. Show two ways out of each room.

- *Make sure all escape paths are clear.

- *Learn the sound of your smoke alarm.

- *Decide on a meeting place outside where everyone can go when they've escaped from a fire.

- *Call the fire department, from a neighbor's or nearby phone.

- *Hold a home fire drill at least twice a year.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, in the last decade, fire has affected more than 100,000 people and burned and disfigured many thousands more. Hence, the yearly focus to include the Oct. 9 anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire of 1871. More than 250 people died and more than 17,000 buildings were destroyed in the fire, which burned for 27 hours.

On the base, the following events are planned at the fire station in building 306A:

Wednesday, Oct. 10, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Open House activities include:

- *Demonstration stations of fire equipment and firefighter's gear.

- *Movies and fire station tours throughout the day.

- *Fire apparatus rides from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Lower Allen Township Vol. Fire Department Ladder Truck.

- *Our famous Fire House Chili (Benefits Underprivileged Children's Christmas Party) will be served from 11:30 a.m. until it's gone!

- *If possible, a guest speaker from the Urban Search and Rescue Team that assisted at the tragedy in New York City.

Corliss receives Batchelder Award

LT Jeff Corliss of the Fleet Material Support Office received the prestigious Vice Admiral Robert F. Batchelder Award at an awards ceremony held in Athens, Ga., Aug. 23.

The Batchelder Award program was established by the Navy League in 1983 in memory of VADM Robert F. Batchelder, SC, USN. Administered by the Chief of the Supply Corps and sponsored by the Navy League of the United States, "the award is intended to enhance operational readiness by public and official recognition of the Supply Corps officer or officers who make exceptional contributions to supply readiness."

VADM Batchelder (1895-1973) served on active duty from 1917 through 1957. During his career he served aboard six ships and provided unparalleled support during both World Wars.

Corliss, who is a project officer in the Technical Support Department, was selected as one of the five recipients for the FY 2000 awards from over 100 nominations submitted from throughout the fleet.

While serving on the USS West Virginia (SSBN 736)(Blue), he and his department earned the Supply Blue "E" and his astute tactical sense significantly helped the crew win the Tactical "T" and Battle "E" for 2000. Additionally, he played an integral role in the command's extraordinarily high retention level, helping to make the West Virginia (Blue) the unit with the highest retention in the entire Atlantic Fleet for 2000.

Thinking Children's Party

Volunteer help and funds for the annual Children's Christmas Party are now being sought.

"Your contributions will reach some of the neediest kids with such items as coats and shoes for the winter season," reports Kathie Staller, the chair of this year's Mechanicsburg Federal Employees Leadership Association-sponsored party.

"We hope to be able to continue to provide each child with a coat or jacket in their packages along with a full set of clothing and some toys," she said. "On behalf of all our employees here on the installation we also hope to be providing certificates for their shoes and for food for a family holiday dinner."

The fund-raisers that are now taking place are important to the planning committee, she continued. "On behalf of all employees here we hope to invite 130 youngsters to this year's party."

Volunteers sought

It's also the time to sign up to help with the Dec. 5 event.

Planners are looking for volunteers to be Santa, Mrs. Claus, elves, and Frosty the Snowman at the party. See coupon below.

These volunteers will also serve as part of the team that is currently at work to raise funds for the party.

These volunteers will be visiting installation work areas to encourage employees to make donations toward the $40,000 goal.
